

We want to be able to sustain the Youth Orchestras in years to come, and cultivate students who will go on to enjoy the numerous advantages culturally and socially of learning an orchestral instrument and playing “classical music.”

This is our third year, and we have managed to secure funding from Essex Music Services, with a small fee being charged to the school. We are excited to be able to continue this on to include more schools.

5live is a project to introduce Primary school children to traditional woodwind instruments through a 45- minute concert (involving a range of music from different Genre) by a professional wind quintet followed by an instrument zoo - where the children can try out the instruments.

The members of 5live are a group of friends who are all experienced musicians, teachers and performers who are passionate about every child’s right to have the opportunity to hear professional musicians and to have the opportunity to learn an instrument.

Our experience is that fewer children are opting to take up traditional wind instruments e.g. Flute, clarinet, oboe and bassoon and we want to raise the profile of these instruments through this exciting performance. 5Live is unique in its ability to satisfy several of the National Curriculum’s criteria.

Ray Gooding, Essex County Council for education, added:

“Music is an important part of the curriculum and plays a valuable role in a child’s development. Regardless of their background, we believe all children should have the opportunity to learn a musical instrument if they wish to.”

“This excellent project has enabled thousands of children to be introduced to woodwind music and to have a go at playing instruments they might not otherwise get the opportunity to.”

I hope the experience will inspire some pupils to pursue their musical education further.”
